KITCHENS + BATHROOMS

THE DEFINITIVE GUIDE

contents june / july 2026

06 FROM THE EDITOR
Our editor's thoughts on the season

INSIDER

10 SHOPPING Investment pieces for now, from floors to walls.

14 TRENDS Karoo Gothic: a moodier take on the vernacular, where rustic forms meet dramatic, shadowed detail.

22 DESIGN SOLUTIONS Living rooms, considered: layered, inviting spaces that balance comfort with quiet sophistication.

GARDENS

32 THE SEASON OF RETREAT
Landscaper Franchesca Watson on winter's quieter potential, where sheltered spaces invite stillness, comfort and a closer connection to the season.

34 HAVEN OF HARMONY
On the edge of an indigenous forest, landscape designer Hannes Stander and floral artist Daniel Ferreira craft a garden of layered, quietly expressive charm.

40 SMALL WONDER Johannesburg-based designer Liz Steyn pairs refined geometry with a romantic sensibility, showing how small-scale gardens can become deeply intimate retreats.

THE EDIT

48 COUNTRY FRESH An English-inspired farmhouse in the Franschhoek winelands balances traditional charm with modern comfort, shaped for effortless gathering.

56 WHERE CALM MEETS CRAFT
An exercise in warm minimalism, this quietly luxurious winelands home pairs expansive architecture with the intimacy of family life.

62 A STUDY IN LAYERED LIVING
At a landmark Mayfair address, Christian Bense reimagines the show apartment at 60 Curzon, trading sterile perfection for lived-in luxury

70 A SENSE OF PERMANENCE
In one of Vancouver's most storied neighbourhoods, a newly built home channels the spirit of a historic manor

LIVING

82 INTO THE STILLNESS Tucked into the folds of the Paarl Winelands, an exclusive-use lodge offers a slower, softer kind of luxury, designed for winter retreat.

85 SANCTUARY IN MOTION
At Tamodi Estate & Polo Reserve, interiors unfold as an extension of the landscape: tactile, tonal and designed to slow the pace.

90 BEHIND CLOSED DOORS
What's new, what's now in the world of tipple, with Malu Lambert.

92 WIND IN OUR SAILS The luxe interiors of 9th Avenue Marina set the scene for meeting, eating and real connection.

Room within a Room

In a footprint this compact, the sense of space comes from what's left open. A fireplace partition separates the pajama lounge from the bedroom without closing it off, allowing light to filter through and maintaining visual continuity. Full-height glazing pulls the skyline into view, extending the room beyond its walls, while soft, tailored curtains temper the scale. Low, sculptural seating, including a chaise from Baxter, Italy, keeps sightlines clear and the layout fluid. A deeper palette grounds the space, balancing the influx of natural light and creating a cocooned, intimate corner designed for slowing down.
